- As shareholders with Scotwest, members benefit from the success of the Credit Union through the allocation of surpluses in the form of dividends. The Board of Directors has the authority to determine interim dividend payments that are paid quarterly. At the end of each financial year, the Board of Directors determines the final amount of the dividend for the year and the decision is ratified by the members at the AGM. This may result in the payment of a Bonus Dividend.
- Dividend payments, as referred to in the product details, are automatically added to your account savings balance. Payments are made without the deduction of income tax and members should, therefore, declare dividend payments to Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC) as part of any tax return submissions. Please contact HMRC for advice.
- Should you cancel your membership of Scotwest Credit Union; the funds in your Young Scot Extra Savings Account will be paid out as part of our standard procedures. In this circumstance, no dividend (or equivalent interest payment) will be payable.
